Project: Wheels, Wings and Wonderful

Enquiry Q: How has transport changed over time?

This project teaches children to Understand how transport has changed over time and how it shapes our world.

I am excited to learn about transport in the past, how transport changed in the industrial revolution and what is different about transport in the past to transport now.

We will also learn about how different types of transport help people and how people travel in other countries and cultures.

our History unit this term links to our art where we will use fabric and stitching to create patterns that show movement and travel.
